

The Jacket

A subtle yet funky presentation of a men's blazer lapel reconstructed into a bag.

Your bag may be suited with a colorful, silk "handkerchief" in the pocket or randomly placed buttons that once decorated the jacket.

I found a beautiful collection of mid-century, cut velvet, lace trimmed pieces imported from Germany! These table runners and decorative mats that remain a staple in the German décor can become a novel addition to your winter accessory wardrobe! Act quickly as they are of limited quantity!

The Weekender

Available in two sizes, this bag is incredibly roomy and expandable for your overnight needs. A zipper closure will secure your things so you can toss it over your shoulder or in the car without a care. Leaving you loads of room for weekend fun.

The Diaper Bag

This "mom approved", vinyl lined bag can take you from infancy through childhood, enduring the weight of toys, clothes, and mess! It includes two elastic topped interior pockets, a flat, outside pocket, and a matching zippered bag for toiletries or your personals. Complete with a two snap closure, long fabric snaps, and gold or silver feet for bottom protection, the Diaper Bag can be made in any available fabrics.

 WINTER WARDROBE RESOLUTIONS

Welcome! This is a time of cool temperatures, warm spaces, and fabulous, rich fabrics that make up this season's testa bags! I continue to use vintage fabrics and clothing, which seem to embody what testa is about. To follow "suit", I have used vintage men's blazers, velvet and brocade upholstery fabrics, and vintage German table runners all adorned with interesting trimming. Most bags are now lined in beautiful sleek bengaline. I think this creates a refreshing, bright environment for your "bagthings".
